Around The GNAC

JESSICA SQUARED – SFU READY TO RISE: Simon Fraser was supposed to be led by a Jessica. Senior guard Jessica Jones was named the GNAC Preseason Player of the Year after she averaged 17 points and 4.3 rebounds per game in 2019-20. With Jones out for the first two months of the season, however, sophomore Jessica Wisotzki stepped up to lead the team in scoring. As Jones made her return to the court on New Year's Day against Western Oregon, it became clear that the more Jessicas, the merrier for SFU.

It was Wisotzki who led the way, scoring 27 points on 9 of 15 from the field to win her second GNAC Player of the Week award and help Simon Fraser win the game 84-71, but Jones still made a sizable impact, tallying 12 points, five assists, four rebounds and a steal in her first live game action since March 2020. The result was a much-needed first conference win for Simon Fraser in a week that only four contests were played across the league.

Also on New Year's Day, Alaska took the court for the first time since November 27th with an ultra-young starting lineup of four freshmen and a sophomore. Seattle Pacific spoiled the return behind 17 points and nine rebounds from Natalie Hoff, which helped the Falcons to a 67-45 win.

Central Washington took care of business in a non-conference match-up with Whitworth, defeating the Pirates 89-63 behind 26 points from Kizzah Maltezo and 22 from Kassidy Malcolm. The Wildcats have won three in a row.

Western Washington is now one of just seven remaining unbeaten in Division II. The Vikings defeated Western Oregon 72-50 on Thursday to improve to 10-0. For the first time this year, the Vikings cracked the top five of the D2SIDA Media Poll while remaining at No. 7 in the Coaches Poll. Alaska Anchorage slots in four spots behind WWU in both polls, sitting at No. 9 in the Media Poll and No. 11 in the Coaches Poll.

A full slate of 10 conference games is on the schedule for this week, starting with a Tuesday night match-up between Saint Martin's and Alaska. Highlights from the week ahead include the I-5 rivalry between Western Washington and Seattle Pacific on Saturday, while Alaska Anchorage will need to be on their game after a three-week layoff against a Northwest Nazarene squad that leads the GNAC in rebounding. With WWU at No. 1, Alaska Anchorage at No. 2, Saint Martin's at No. 6, Northwest Nazarene at No. 8 and Central Washington at No. 10, half of the D2SIDA West Region rankings are populated by GNAC teams.

- The 89 points are the fourth-most by a GNAC team this season. The Wildcats made 14 three-pointers, tied for this year's second-highest single-game total in the GNAC. They have fired from deep early and often this season, ranking 11th in Division II in three-pointers attempted (325) and made (110).

- Kizzah Maltezo led the way with 26 points to go with five assists, two steals and a rebound. The senior guard turned in by far her most efficient performance of the season, shooting 10 of 14 from the field, including 6 of 9 from three-point range. Maltezo is the GNAC's current leading scorer at 18.8 points per game.

- Senior forward Kassidy Malcolm tallied 22 points on 8 of 13 shooting along with a team-high six rebounds. Malcolm was 4-for-5 from beyond the arc, and her .456 three-point percentage leads the GNAC and ranks 18th in Division II. She ranks fifth in the conference in scoring (16.9 points per game) and ninth in rebounding (6.9 per game).

- In an interesting quirk, the Saints had two wins in a 24-hour period and had a 24-point leading scorer in each game. Against Pacific, it was freshman Rian Clear, who topped 17 points for the third straight game in her breakout season. Clear also had eight rebounds, four assists and two blocks to help bury the Boxers, who were up a point at halftime but couldn't stop the Saints' surge in the second half.

- Forward Claudia Hart scored 14 points and dished out three assists. Hart is averaging 9.8 points and 4.3 rebounds this season.
- Forward Gemma Cutler grabbed three rebounds and made her only field goal attempt of the game. She leads the GNAC with a .633 field goal percentage (39-60). Emma Kramer ranks tenth with a .500 field goal percentage (41-82). Kramer is averaging 8.8 points per game.
