#GNACMSOC in 280 @GNACSports

#FoxesDen Playing their first two matches at the new SFU Stadium at Terry Fox Field, Simon Fraser shut out Montana State Billings and then-No. 7 Seattle Pacific.

#SimonShutdown Goalkeeper Aidan Bain won GNAC Defensive Player of the Week after facing the conference's leading scorers in Halil Yilmaz and Alex Mejia and picking up 11 saves with no goals allowed.

#BarnBurner Northwest Nazarene and Saint Martin's combined for nine goals on 40 shots during their Oct. 16 matchup. The Saints became the third GNAC team with five goals in a game this year, defeating NNU 5-4.

#VacationTime All six teams had a bye week at the midway point of the GNAC season. They'll now resume play with five games to go in the conference schedule.

Gap Tightens At The Top As Second Half Kicks Off

Four teams are within a game of first place as the GNAC men's soccer season gets set to resume after a conference-wide bye week last week.

With each team having played half of the 10 GNAC games on their schedule, the conference's six teams received a break in the action, but not before a week of results that knocked the last unbeaten team off its perch and clumped several teams together in the standings.

Simon Fraser were the week's big winners, with twin 1-0 victories over MSUB and then-No. 7 Seattle Pacific. The SFU defense had a tall task on paper containing MSUB's Halil Yilmaz and SPU's Alex Mejia, who had combined for 21 goals in 21 matches up to that point.

GNAC Defensive Player of the Week Aidan Bain made nine saves against MSUB before the Simon Fraser team put on a defensive clinic, limiting a Seattle Pacific attack that leads the conference in goals, assists and shots to just two attempts on target. Ali Zohar won Offensive Player of the Week honors for an exquisite headed flick that was the game-winner in the upset of SPU.

The loss to Simon Fraser was the Falcons' first of the GNAC season and second overall. Earlier in the day, Saint Martin's picked up their first win of the GNAC season, and if SFU's triumph was a defensive clinic, the Saints' matchup with the Nighthawks was anything but.

The two teams evenly split eight goals in the first 90 minutes before Jason Fairhurst put through the game-winner with four minutes left in double overtime for a 5-4 SMU victory. Fairhurst also had two assists in the shootout, which incredibly featured nine different goalscorers.

The loss dropped Northwest Nazarene to 3-2 in the GNAC. Entering the match against the Saints in sole possession of second place, the Nighthawks now share second with both Simon Fraser and Western Washington, who had a 1-1 week. Seattle Pacific holds a one-game lead over the chasing pack at 4-1 and is now ranked No. 14 in the United Soccer Coaches National Poll.

The conference's 3-2 teams will get multiple head-to-head opportunities against one another in this week's action. Northwest Nazarene will travel to Simon Fraser on Thursday and then take on Western Washington on Saturday.

SEATTLE PACIFIC

- Seattle Pacific defeated rivals Western Washington 2-0 on Oct. 14 before being stymied by the Simon Fraser defense in a 1-0 loss on Oct. 16.
- Once again, Alex Mejia scored in an SPU victory this week. The senior forward tallied his 12th goal of the season with just 40 seconds left in the match against the Vikings to ice the 2-0 win.
- Prior to Mejia's now-trademark moment of brilliance, Judah Johnston's 61st-minute goal was the difference for SPU. The sophomore forward has three goals for the Falcons, all of which came in a four-match span.
- Mejia is putting together one of the best offensive seasons in the country. His goal-per-match pace ranks tied for fifth in Division II. Mejia has also put opposing nets under assault this season, ranking fifth in Division II with 4.33 shots per match and second nationally with 2.75 shots on goal per match.
- Seattle Pacific leads the GNAC in almost every major statistic: shots (173), goals (30), assists (25), points (85) and goals against average (0.96). They rank 20th in Division II in both goals per match (2.5) and assists per match (2.08).
- The Falcons fell to No. 17 in the United Soccer Coaches National Poll after the loss to Simon Fraser, but rose to No. 14 in the Oct. 26 poll despite being idle that week. They sit at No. 2 in the West Region Poll.
- Seattle Pacific plays just once, facing Montana State Billings on Thursday.

SIMON FRASER

- Simon Fraser climbed into a tie for second in the GNAC standings with two 1-0 victories against MSUB on Oct. 14 and then-No. 7 Seattle Pacific on Oct. 16.
- Aidan Bain was named the GNAC Defensive Player of the Week after recording his fourth and fifth shutouts of the season. Bain made nine saves against MSUB, tied for the second-most by a GNAC player in a game this season, and made two against SPU as a team effort held the Falcons to just seven shots on goal. Bain ranks third in the GNAC with 45 saves and second with a 1.07 goals against average.
- Justus Meier scored his first collegiate goal in the fourth minute against MSUB, which held up as the game-winner. Against Seattle Pacific, Ali Zohar headed in a cross from Nico Papakyriakopoulos in the 21st minute. Zohar was named the GNAC Offensive Player of the Week for his highlight-reel goal that sealed the upset win.
- Freshman Brody Thomas (three) remains the only Simon Fraser player with more than one goal. Connor Glennon leads the team with two assists.
- Simon Fraser is undefeated in the brand-new SFU Stadium, and they get two more matches there this week – against Northwest Nazarene on Thursday and Saint Martin's on Saturday.
