GNAC News & Notes

ONE WEEKEND LEFT: One weekend remains in the GNAC regular season and not much is decided yet for the field for the GNAC Championships, which start next Thursday in Lacey, Wash.

The only sure thing in terms of the field is Central Washington, which has secured its fourth GNAC Championships berth with its win on Sunday over Saint Martin's. The chance to snag the Wildcats' fifth GNAC regular season title, however, went unfulfilled as the Saints came back to take the final three games of the series.

There are only four games between the second and fifth place teams in the conference, meaning that the rest of the tournament field won't be determined until Sunday. Thanks to their three wins over CWU, the Saints propelled themselves into second place at 14-8 with six games to go. Western Washington sits third at 15-9 with four games to go and Northwest Nazarene is fourth at 13-11 with four games to go. Western Oregon is fifth at 11-11, but will play six games this weekend to close the regular season.

PURCHASE CHAMPIONSHIP TICKETS NOW: Ticket sales are now open for the 2017 Great Northwest Athletic Conference Softball Championships. The annual tournament will take place May 4-6 at Saint Martin's University in Lacey, Wash.

Advance tickets can be purchased online through the GNAC's EventBrite ticket ordering page now until May 3. Single session advance tickets are available for $9 for adults and $5 for seniors (65 years and older), high school and college students and children (3-14 years old). Children two years of age and younger are free. Full tournament passes purchased in advance are available for $16 for adults, $10 for seniors, high school and college students and children.

Tickets will be available at the tournament site on the day of games for an additional cost.
