GNAC News & Notes

NORTHWEST NAZARENE, WESTERN WASHINGTON NECK AND NECK

AT THE TURN: With one half of the GNAC season in the books, Northwest Nazarene and Western Washington appeared to be locked in a hot race for the conference title.

The Nighthawks (Northwest Nazarene's nickname as of Monday) saw its hot start to the season end in heartbreaking fashion last Tuesday at Central Washington, falling in five sets. The rebound came quick, though, as the Nighthawks dispatched Montana State Billings in three sets.

Northwest Nazarene continues to play well in nearly every aspect of the game, leading the conference in kills (13.97 per set) and assists (13.37 per set) while ranking second in hitting percentage (.248) and opponent hitting percentage (.150).

Western Washington, meanwhile, is riding the wave of a nine-match win streak and took over possession of first place in the GNAC on Tuesday by virtue of its win at Simon Fraser. The Vikings have not lost since taking a four-set loss at NNU on Sept. 16. The two teams do not meet again until Nov. 16.

The Vikings are playing just as strong as their Idaho counterparts, leading the GNAC in hitting percentage (.250) and digs (18.90 per set) while ranking second in kills (13.94 per set), assists (13.00 per set), aces (1.64 per set) and blocks (2.76 per set).

FOR THE BLOCK: The GNAC continues to be one of the top blocking conferences in Division II. The conference boasts three of the top-five blockers in Division II and five of the top-30. Central Washington's Sabrina Wheelhouse continues to lead the nation with an average of 1.73 blocks per set. Western Washington's Joslyn Bopray is second with 1.45 blocks per set while Northwest Nazarene's Madi Farrell is fifth at 1.34 blocks per set. As a team, Central Washington leads the nation with an average of 3.03 blocks per set while Western Washington is third at 2.76 blocks per set.

IN THE POLLS: With its wins over Saint Martin's and Seattle Pacific, Western Washington jumped three more spots to No. 8 in the latest AVCA Division II Coaches Top-25. Northwest Nazarene slipped two spots to No. 12.

Central Washington is knocking on the top-25 door, ranking first among teams receiving votes with 52 points. Alaska Anchorage received eight votes.
