GNAC News & Notes

TIGHT RACE BREWING WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO: There are just two weeks left in the 2017 volleyball regular season and it is shaping up to be a race to the finish between Western Washington and Northwest Nazarene.

The Vikings have been on a roll as of late, running their win streak to 14 matches with wins over the weekend over Alaska and Alaska Anchorage. Eight of their last nine matches have been three-set sweeps, the streak broken up by the four-set win over Alaska Anchorage on Thursday. Western Washington enters the week leading the GNAC at 15-1 and is 21-3 overall.

After opening the season with a 16-match win streak, Northwest Nazarene has kept pace by winning seven of its last nine matches. After taking a five-set loss at Alaska Anchorage on Oct. 28, the Nighthawks have won three straight, but had to come back from two sets down to beat Central Washington in five sets on Tuesday. Northwest Nazarene enters the week in second in the GNAC at 15-2 and is 23-2 overall.

The two teams will meet on the final weekend of the season, facing off in Bellingham on Nov. 16. The Nighthawks won the first meeting between the two teams in four sets in Nampa on Sept. 14. It was the last match Western Washington lost.

GNAC FLAVOR IN WEST REGION POLL: The GNAC continues to have four teams in the NCAA Division II West Region Rankings. The top three teams did not change position as Northwest Nazarene stayed at No. 2, Western Washington stayed at No. 3 and Central Washington stayed at No. 6. Alaska Anchorage dropped one spot to No. 9. The poll rankings at the end of the regular season will determine selection to the NCAA Division II National Tournament.
