NCAA West Region Championship Preview

A conference that has proven dominant in regional play all season will have a chance to prove itself again as five GNAC teams will compete in the NCAA Division II West Region Championship, Thursday through Saturday at Alaska Anchorage's Alaska Airlines Center.

The five teams is the most ever for the GNAC squad and marks the third consecutive year that the tournament is being held in GNAC Country. The Seawolves is the host for the second straight season.

And after being eliminated in the semifinals last season, Alaska Anchorage is looking for redemption. The No. 1 seed in the region, Seawolves improved on a record year in 2015 with another one in 2016, entering the tournament with a 29-2 record. After taking a three-set loss to Chaminade back on Aug. 26, UAA's only loss was in five sets to Western Washington at home on Oct. 22.

Alaska Anchorage is led by setter Morgan Hooe, who was named the GNAC and D2CCA West Region Player of the Year.

The Seawolves will face No. 8 seed Chico State. The Wildcats advanced as an at-large selection after finished the regular season with a 23-7 overall record. The Wildcats were 15-3 in California Collegiate Athletic Association play. Chico State lost in the CCAA Tournament championship in five sets to Cal State San Bernardino, who is in the tournament as the No. 2 seed.

Western Washington, the defending West Region champion, is the No. 3 seed in the tournament. The Vikings overcame a sluggish start to the season to finish with a 21-7 overall record and in second place in the GNAC at 17-3.

Western Washington enters the tourney having won 16 of its last 17 matches and has never lost a match in the Alaska Airlines Center.

The Vikings will open against No. 6 seed Cal Baptist, who earned the PacWest Conference's automatic qualifier. The Lancers finished the regular season with a 20-8 overall record and placed second in the PacWest at 15-5 (Concordia-Irvine, the PacWest champion, is not eligible for the postseason due to its transition from NAIA to Division II).

Cal Baptist lost its last two matches of the regular season, but succeeded in pushing the Vikings to five sets when the two teams met in the D2 West Region Volleyball Showcase on Sept. 9.

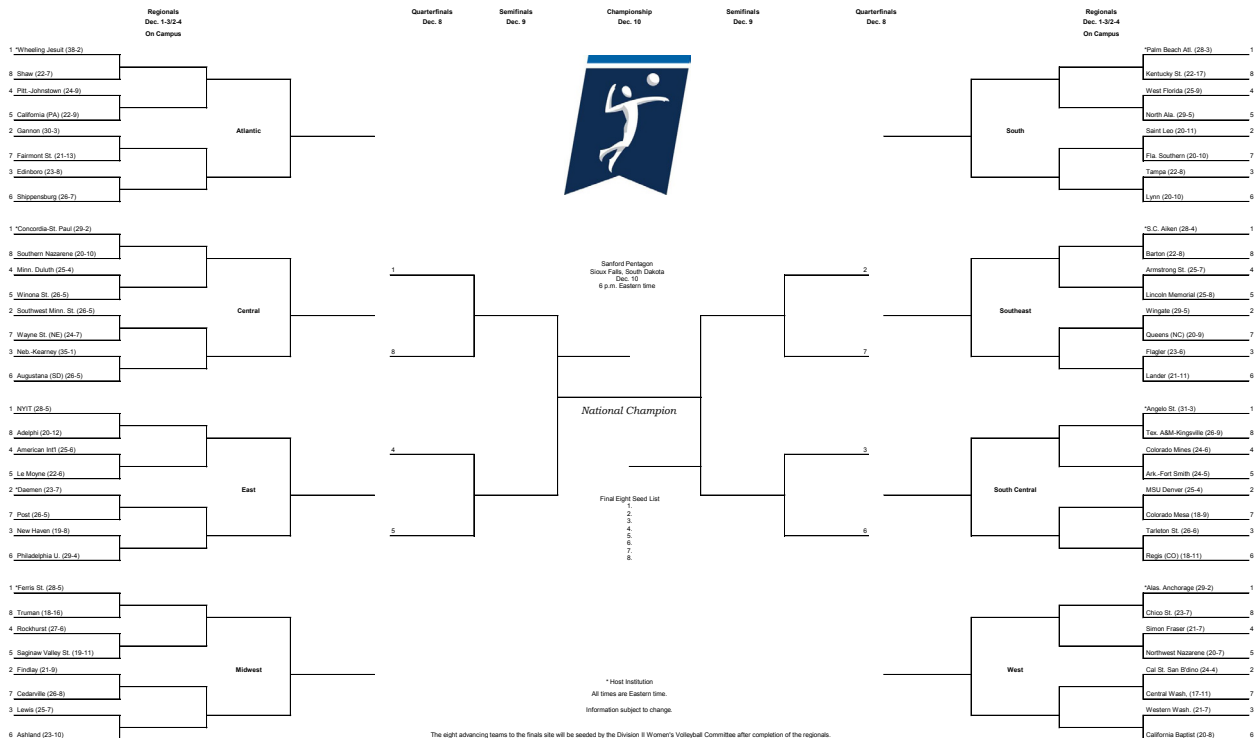

No. 4 seed Simon Fraser and No. 5 seed Northwest Nazarene will meet each other for the third time this season. The Clan won both regular season meetings in three sets. For Simon Fraser, this is its first appearance in the Division II championship and enter with a 21-7 overall record and finished third in the GNAC at 14-6.

The Crusaders are making their third consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance. Northwest Nazarene finished the regular season at 20-7 and tied for fourth in the GNAC at 13-7 with Central Washington, who enters the tournament as the No. 7 seed. The Wildcats finished with a 17-11 regular season mark and enters having won three of its last four matches.

Central Washington will face an experienced Cal State San Bernardino squad in the opener. The tournament's No. 2 seed, the Coyotes earned the CCAA's automatic qualifier with a five-set win over Chico State in the CCAA Tournament. They enter the tournament with a 24-4 overall record and had the best CCAA conference record at 15-2.

Around The GNAC

WESTERN WASHINGTON

• Western Washington returns to defend its West Region championship. The Vikings are the No. 3 seed in the tournament and will face No. 6 Cal Baptist in the quarterfinals.

• The Vikings won its quarterfinal match over Point Loma in three sets in 2015 before going five sets to down UC San Diego in the semifinals and Cal State San Bernardino in the championship. The next week, Western Washington defeated Rockhurst in the national quarterfinals before falling in three sets to eventual national champion Wheeling Jesuit in the semis.

- Western Washington finished the regular season at 21-7 overall and placed second in the GNAC at 17-3. After going 5-6 in its first 11 matches, the Vikings have gone 16-1 since.
- The Vikings enter the tournament with 6-0 record at the Alaska Airlines Center, which includes all three regular season meetings in the building with Alaska Anchorage.
- Sophomore middle blocker Kayleigh Harper was named to the AVCA All-West Region Team and to the D2CCA All-West Region second team. Harper leads the GNAC and is 17th in Division II with a .369 hitting percentage.
- Sophomore outside hitter Abby Phelps earned a spot on the AVCA All-West Region Team. She enters the tournament seventh in the GNAC with 4.47 digs per set and ninth with 3.16 kills per set.
- As a team, Western Washington leads the GNAC and is 10th in Division II with a .259 hitting percentage. The Vikings also lead the GNAC and rank seventh in Division II with 14.40 kills per set and are eighth in Division II with 13.50 assists per set.

GNAC DOMINATES ALL-REGION SELECTIONS: In a season where the GNAC dominated selections to the NCAA Division II West Regional Championship, the conference's dominance is also visible in the selections to the D2CCA and American Volleyball Coaches Association's (AVCA) All-West Region Teams.

The GNAC landed five of seven spots on the D2CCA All-West Region First Team in addition to two second team selections. The list is led by Alaska Anchorage setter Morgan Hooe, who added West Region Player of the Year honors to her GNAC Player of the Year award she earned last week. In addition, seven GNAC athletes were selected to the AVCA's All-West Region, which included Freshman of the Year honors for Alaska Anchorage middle blocker Diana Fa'amausili.

The GNAC's seven selections to both the D2CCA and AVCA squads are the most of any West Region conference.

Four players earned selection to both first teams: Alaska Anchorage's Hooe and outside hitter Leah Swiss, Simon Fraser libero Alison McKay and Northwest Nazarene middle blocker Madi Farrell. Central Washington middle blocker Sabrina Wheelhouse also earned D2CCA first team honors.

Additional first team honorees to the AVCA first team include Northwest Nazarene outside hitter Kendra Bodine, Western Washington middle blocker Kayleigh Harper and Vikings' outside hitter Abby Phelps. Harper and Bodine were also D2CCA selections while Fa'amausili and Wheelhouse were honorable mentions to the AVCA squad.

Hooe and Farrell were named to the AVCA All-West Region Team for the second consecutive year while Hooe earned D2CCA All-West Region First Team selections for the second straight year. Farrell and Harper were D2CCA second team selections in 2015.

2016 ALL-GNAC TEAM: The woman considered the heart and soul of the two-time conference champions leads the list of selections to the 2016 Great Northwest Athletic Conference Volleyball All-Conference Team.

Senior setter Morgan Hooe was selected by coaches as the Player of the Year, leading three Alaska Anchorage players selected for the conference's five special awards. Chris Green was tabbed as the Coach of the Year while Diana Fa'amausili was selected as the Freshman of the Year.

Simon Fraser libero Alison McKay was named the league's Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive year while Concordia setter Michele Brown was named the Newcomer of the Year, marking the second straight year that a Cavaliers' player has won the honor.

Hooe was the unanimous choice of coaches for Player of the Year. The starting setter for the Seawolves averaged 10.57 assists per set during the regular season, but also proved a solid hitter with a team-best .396 hitting percentage. Hooe finished with double-doubles (digs and assists) in 13 matches, which included an effort of 53 assists and 16 digs against Northwest Nazarene on Nov. 10. Offensively, Hooe finished with seven kills in two matches and hit .357 against Central Washington on Nov. 12.

As the Freshman of the Year, Fa'amausili allowed the Seawolves to reload with another talented hitter and blocker. Fa'amausili finished the regular season 10th in the GNAC with a .258 hitting percentage and eighth in the league with an average of 1.06 blocks per set. A starter in 21 of the Seawolves' 31 matches, Fa'amausili had her best effort of the regular season with 15 kills and eight blocks against Northwest Nazarene on Nov. 10.

Hooe and Fa'amausili were two of four Alaska Anchorage players to be named to the first team. Joining the duo is outside hitter Leah Swiss and middle blocker Erin Braun.

Green earned his third consecutive GNAC Coach of the Year award and the fourth of his nine-year career at Alaska Anchorage. Green has led the Seawolves to two straight GNAC championships and two straight No. 1 West Region rankings. This season, Alaska Anchorage ended the regular season with a 29-2 record, marking the second year in a row that the program has set a season record for wins.

McKay was elected as the Defensive Player of the Year for the second consecutive year after she helped lead Simon Fraser to its first ever NCAA Division II championships appearance. McKay led the GNAC during the regular season and is fourth in Division II with an average of 6.60 digs per set. She finished with a season-high 39 digs at Concordia on Oct. 1 and she notched a double-double of 33 digs and 11 assists at Western Washington on Nov. 15.

Joining McKay from Simon Fraser on the first team is setter Tamara Nipp and middle blocker Tessa May.

Brown, who was an honorable mention to the all-conference team, finished third in the GNAC with an average of 11.08 assists per set. The transfer from Division I Idaho had a double-double in seven matches, led by a 52-assist, 20-dig performance at Seattle Pacific on Sept. 24.

Of the 15 players to make the all-conference first team, 13 will play in the upcoming NCAA Division II West Region Championships, Dec. 1-3 in Anchorage. Western Washington landed three players on the team including middle blocker Kayleigh Harper and outside hitters Abby Phelps and Arielle Turner. Representing Northwest Nazarene is middle blocker Madi Farrell and outside hitter Kendra Bodine while Central Washington is represented by middle blocker Sabrina Wheelhouse.

Rounding out the first team is Concordia opposite-side hitter Lindsey Dorsey and Montana State Billings' outside hitter Ashlynn Ward.

This year's GNAC All-Conference First Team includes eight unanimous selections as well 11 repeat selections. Eight players were repeat first team selections: Hooe, Harper, Farrell, McKay, Bodine, Dorsey, Phelps and Wheelhouse.
