Championships Preview

Western Washington's Bethany Drake is the Division II national leader in the javelin.

Seattle Pacific's McKayla Fricker and Western Washington's Lindsay Wells will each be seeking their third consecutive victories this weekend in the GNAC Women's Track and Field Championships.

Fricker is the two-time defending champion in the 800 meters and came into the final weekend of the regular-season ranked third in NCAA Division II.

Wells will be seeking her third straight title in the 13th annual GNAC

Championships. They are among six previous champions in this year's women's field.

Also back to defend their crowns are Karolin Anders of Alaska Anchorage in the high jump, Cheyanna Pinley of Western Washington in the pole vault and Vessie Umu of Northwest Nazarene in the shot put.

Anders has already claimed one title this spring winning the GNAC Multi-Events last week. Another previous champion is Seattle Pacific's Kishia Mitchell. She swept the 100 and 200-meter titles in 2011.

In addition to Fricker and Wells, who ranks 10th (as of May 1), seven other GNAC athletes rank in the Top 10 nationally in their events.

Bethany Drake of Western Washington is the national leader in the javelin with a GNAC-record throw of 169-6. She is one of three javelin throws in the Top 10 nationally along with WWU's Katie Reichert (4th) and Western Oregon's Seabre Church (8th).

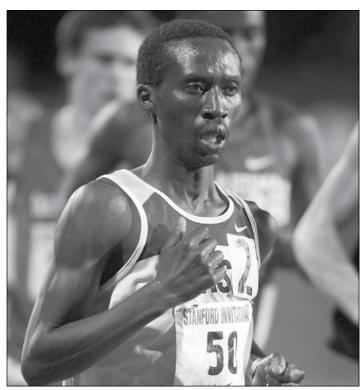

The 800 meters features four athletes ranked in the Top 10 – Fricker, Sarah Sawatzky of Seattle Pacific (6th), SPU's Lynelle Decker (7th) and Ivy O'Guinn of Alaska Anchorage (9th).

O'Guinn also ranks second in the 1500. Her teammate – Joyce Kipchumba has two Top 10 ranks — fifth in the 10,000 and 10th in the 5,000.

In addition to O'Guinn and Kipchumba, two other GNAC Athletes are ranked in the Top 20 in two events. UAA's Jamie Ashcroft ranks 11th in the 100 meters with a GNAC-record time of 11.74 and 17th in the 200 in a time of 11.74.

Northwest Nazarene's Jordan Rehfeld ranks 16th in the 10,000 and 18th in the Alaska Anchorage is the defending team champion. Prior to UAA's victory, only two other GNAC schools had won the women's team title – Seattle Pacific (6 times) and Western Oregon (4 times).

Alaska Anchorage's Micah Chelimo is nearing the GNAC championship meet point record

MEN: CHELIMO NEARS GNAC RECORD FOR TITLES

Micah Chelimo of Alaska Anchorage will have the opportunity to become the most prolific point scorer in GNAC Men's Track and Field Championship history this weekend.

Chelimo currently ranks third on the all-time career point list with 69 points and needs 14 points to surpass UAA's David Registe on the all-time scoring list.

Chelimo, who has the best times this spring in Division II in both the 5,000 and 10,000 meters, already has five career wins, one shy of the GNAC record.

He won the steeplechase in 2010, the steeple and 5,000 in 2011 and the 1,500 and 5,000 in 2012. He redshirted last year.

Chelimo is one of 14 previous champions in the field including seven from last year.

Rimar Christie of Northwest Nazarene swept the 100 and 200 last year and also won the 100 two years ago.

Western Washington's Jonathon Poolman won the 400 a year ago. He will be challenged by UAA's Ethan Hewitt, the 2010 and 2012 winner.

Brady Beagley of Western Washington is back to defend his steeplechase title, while hurdler champions Logan Myers of WWU (110 hurdles) and Elliott Bauer of UAA (400 hurdles) also return. Myers is one of three former 110 champions in the field along with WOU's Kody Rhodes (2012) and Brett Campbell (2011).

Defending field event champions include Brett Watson of Western Washington in the high jump, Joseph Keeton of Saint Martin's in the pole vault and Franz Burghagen of Alaska Anchorage in the javelin.

Burghagen ranks second in Division II in the javelin with a season-best of 229-3. The javelin will also feature 2011 champion Cody Parker of UAA and Shane Brooks of Western Oregon who ranks eighth this spring with a best of 211-7.

Another former champion is Matson Hardie of Western Oregon, who won the triple jump title in 2010 and the long jump in 2012. Hardie has scored 45 career points in the GNAC meet and needs five more to become the 18th male athlete to tally 50.

Western Washington will be seeking its third straight men's team title and its fifth overall. That would enable the Vikings to match Western Oregon's five team titles. Central Washington has won two team championships.

About The GNAC

Located in five states and the province of Canada and with a strong presence in or near the largest city of each, the Great Northwest Athletic Conference has established itself as one of the top NCAA Division II athletic conferences in the nation during its 13-year history.

Founded in July, 2001, GNAC teams have had a remarkable 78 NCAA Division II Top-10 national team finishes in 15 of the 16 sports that it sponsors. That includes national championships in men's basketball (Western Washington in 2012), men's soccer (Seattle University in 2004) and women's soccer (Seattle Pacific in 2008).

So far this year GNAC teams have had six 10 finishes including thirds in men's soccer by Simon Fraser and women's soccer by Western Washington.

Alaska Anchorage has had three Top 10 finishes - fourth in women's country, seventh in men's cross country and ninth in men's indoor track and field. The Seawolf are the first team in GNAC history to finish in the Top 10 in men's indoor.

Simon Fraser has had two - third in men's soccer and seventh in women's cross country.

The conference has had great success over the years especially in basketball and cross country. Women's basketball teams have had 12 Top 10 finishes, while men's teams have produced a total of 11.

Twelve times GNAC women's cross country teams have earned Top 10 finishes, including six by Alaska Anchorage, three by Seattle Pacific and two by Western Washington.

Alaska Anchorage has earned four Top 10 finishes in men's cross country, while Western Washington has had three.

In indoor track and field, SPU has had five Top 10 finishes and Western Washington and Alaska Anchorage each have had one.

GNAC teams have also produced four Top 10 finishes in outdoor track and field including a seventh place finish by the UAA women last season.
