SAN RAFAEL, Calif. — Sixteen different institutions were represented on the 2014 Daktronics, Inc./NCAA Division II Women's Soccer All-West Region Teams, led by five selections for Western Washington University.

The Vikings, who went 16-0-4 before being upset by Cal State Stanislaus in the second round of the NCAA Division II Women's Soccer Championship, were headlined by First Team defender Brianna Jones. Four WWU players were named to the Second Team — goalkeeper Ashley Haden, junior forwards Jessica Bertucci and Catherine Miles, and senior midfielder Kim Cooper.

Cal State LA senior midfielder Heather Williams, who was earlier named the CCAA Most Valuable Offensive Player and All-CCAA First Team, was named the 2014 West Region Player of the Year. Williams is joined on the First Team by three teammates — senior goalkeeper Yi Du, senior forward Amalia Arvidsson, and senior defender Justine Telles.

Cal State Stanislaus, which advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division II Soccer Championship, was led by freshman forward Jade Poon and senior defender Karli Nestler.

Seattle Pacific sophomore forward Hannah Huesers and junior midfielder Isabel Farrell both earned First Team honors for the Falcons.

Point Loma, which became the first team in the history of the Pacific West Conference to go undefeated in a 12-game schedule, was represented by senior defender Claire Mathews on the First Team and sophomore defender Dottie Rhoten on the Second Team.

California Baptist, Cal Poly Pomona, and Sonoma State each had one selection to the First Team. A tie in voting led to three extra forwards being named to the Second Team. Thirteen institutions were represented by a player on the Second Team.
