WEEK 12 PREVIEW

CAMPBELL, fresh off its narrow defeat at Jacksonville in Week 11, travels to MOREHEAD STATE which will be playing its second-consecutive home contest. The two squads are evenly matched statistically, Morehead State (338.5 ypg) ranked ahead of Campbell (329.2 ypg) in total offense, while the Camels (357.7 ypg) are ranked just ahead of Morehead State (381.1 ypg) in total defense. Morehead State's Zach Lewis ranks second in passing yardage among PFL quarterbacks, averaging 257.6 yards per game with 14 touchdowns. Campbell has three runners ranked among the league's top six, led by quarterback Daniel Polk who is averaging 51.1 rushing yards per game and has 11 touchdowns on the ground this season. ► DAVIDSON will renew an old rivalry when it visits Presbyterian in the first meeting between the two teams since 1988. The Wildcats three victories this season have all come on the road, where they are 3-2 this season. Davidson is one of the league's more disciplined squads, committing just 43 penalties for a PFL low 30.8 penalty yards per game. ► MARIST will travel to the nation's capital to face Georgetown in a non-conference tilt. The Red Foxes have not won in Washington, D.C. in seven previous visits. However, the last four meetings have been decided by a total of nine points with the victor winning in the final minute each time. Marist wideout James LaMacchia enters the contest with a league-high 71 receptions, covering 798 yards in 10 games.
