Game No. 7 – Thursday, Nov. 29 – 5 p.m. CT
Jones Convocation Center (7,000) – Chicago, Ill.

Next Up in Valpo Basketball: The Valparaiso University women's basketball team will look to get back in the win column on Thursday evening with a visit to Chicago State. The game is the front end of a women's-men's double header as the Cougar men will clash with East-West following the women's contest with the nightcap tip slated for 7:05 p.m.. This game is technically part of the Vinewood Farm Classic as both teams played at Morehead State Nov. 16-17. Valpo has a chance to finish with a 2-1 record in the event.

Last Time Out: It was another narrow defeat for the Valpo women, who dropped Monday's home date with Toledo 65-59. The Rockets, a quality MAC team two years removed from an NCAA Tournament berth, were led in scoring by Mariella Santucci with 20 points. Bryce Blood had a double-double of 10 points and 10 rebounds against her hometown team. Meredith Hamlet set a season high with 26 points, three points shy of her career best. Valpo chipped the lead to four after trailing by as many as 14 in the second half.

Following Valpo: Thursday's game can be seen on the WAC Digital Network free of charge courtesy of Chicago State Athletics. In addition, Ben Ariano (play-by-play) and Brandon Vickrey (color commentary) will have the radio call on 95.1 FM Valparaiso, WVUR. Live stats are also available. In addition, follow @ValpoWBB on Twitter for in-game updates.

Head Coach Mary Evans: Mary Evans is in her first year as the head coach of the Valparaiso University women's basketball program in 2018-2019. Evans, who spent the last five seasons as an assistant coach at Ohio University, became the eighth head coach in program history on April 13, 2018. She brought 15 years of Division I experience with her to Valpo. During her time on Ohio's staff under head coach Bob Boldon, Evans helped the Bobcats to three seasons of 22 wins or more, three postseason appearances and three Top 75 RPI finishes. The 2014-15 team established a school record with 27 wins, a 21-win improvement from two years earlier and an 18-win improvement from the previous season. The Bobcats won the 2014-15 MAC regular season and tournament titles and reached the NCAA Tournament. Evans has also coached at Youngstown State, Georgia Southern, South Carolina Aiken and Seton Hall.

Series Notes: Valpo owns a 37-6 edge in the all-time set with the Cougars. Last season, Maya Meredith scored 10 of her 12 points in the fourth quarter to help Valpo hold off Chicago State 71-60 on Dec. 10 at the ARC. The last time Valpo visited Chicago State was a memorable matchup as Valpo escaped with a 53-51 triumph behind a buzzer-beating layup by Meredith Hamlet on Nov. 16, 2016.

Handing Out Helpers: Valpo freshman Shay Frederick leads the Missouri Valley Conference with an impressive assist-to-turnover ratio of 3.50. She is tied for 21st nationally in that category and ranks third among freshmen nationwide behind only Eastern Michigan's Jenna Anecchiarico (4.00) and New Orleans' Traya Bruce (4.00).

Familiar Foe: Valpo sophomore Bryce Blood is no stranger to the Toledo women's basketball program after growing up in Toledo and attending Whitmer High School. She had a strong showing against her hometown team on Monday night at the ARC, turning in a double-double of 10 points and 10 rebounds. That was the first double-double by a Valpo player this season and the third of Blood's career. She also made her first start of the season on Monday.

Hamlet Honored: After becoming the 15th member of Valpo's 1,000 point club on Nov. 17, senior Meredith Hamlet was honored before Monday's game against Toledo. She followed that with her highest scoring output of the season – 26 points against a quality MAC foe. That effort was three points shy of matching a career high. She hit a pair of 3-pointers in the final 35 seconds to allow Valpo to close to within four and eventually fall by six in a game the team had trailed by as many as 14.

Winning the Turnover Battle: Valpo has won the turnover battle in all six games so far this season. This is Valpo's first such streak since the 2008-09 campaign, when the team had fewer turnovers than its opponent in six straight contests. Defense has been a big part of that as Valpo has 59 steals already this year.

Frequenting the Windy City: Valpo will be no stranger to Chicago this season as this marks the second of three trips to Chi-Town. Valpo played at UIC on Nov. 7 and will visit Loyola in MVC play on Jan. 6. The last time Valpo visited three different schools in Chicago in the same season was 2010-11, a season that featured a season-opening trip to DePaul as part of the preseason WNIT and Horizon League visits to Loyola and UIC.

Balanced Efforts: Valpo has received scoring contributions from a variety of individuals this season as the team has featured four different leading scorers in the last four games. Allison Schofield poured in a career-high 16 on Nov. 14 at Illinois. The Vinewood Farm Classic in Morehead, Ky. saw a pair of point guards pace

Valpo – redshirt junior Hannah Schaub with 11 on Nov. 16 against the host Eagles and freshman Shay Frederick with 19 on Nov. 17 against St. Francis Brooklyn. Meredith Hamlet has bookended the stretch – leading the team on Nov. 11 vs. North Dakota and Monday vs. Toledo. The last time Valpo had four different leading scorers in a four-game stretch was Jan. 9-21, 2016 when the leading scorers were Dani Franklin, Jasmyn Walker, Imani Scott-Thompson and Abby Dean. Valpo has already had eight players with at least one double-figure scoring output this season.

Swiping It Away: Valpo has compiled 59 steals through the first six games of the season, the most Valpo has had through five games since 2009-10. Three times Valpo has had 11+ steals this season, including 15 in the season opener against UIC, Valpo's most since Jan. 23, 2014. Addison Stoller leads the team in steals with 16.

Ascending the Assist Chart: Hannah Schaub has advanced her career assist total to 253, a number that places her 14th in program history. She recently passed Megan Newcomer (1996-2000, 247) and her former teammate Lexi Miller (2012-2016, 246) on Valpo's all-time list. Next up is Agnieszka Kulaga (2005-2009), who currently ranks 13th at 256.

Hamlet on the All-Time Scoring List: Meredith Hamlet is up to 1,041 career points as she is one of four active MVC players in the 1,000 point club, joining an elite group that features Drake's Maddy Dean (1,282), Drake's Sara Rhine (1,158) and UNI's Ellie Howell (1,048). Hamlet currently sits 14th in Valpo history in career scoring with Suzie Hammel (2000-2004) 13th at 1,077.

Winning A Close One: The 78-76 victory over St. Francis Brooklyn on Nov. 17 was Valpo's seventh game decided by two points or fewer since the start of the 2015-16 season. Valpo is now 6-1 in games decided by one or two points in that time span and 6-0 in such games that are decided in regulation.

- Valpo will be their third Missouri Valley Conference opponent this season. The Cougars fell 67-58 to Evansville on Nov. 10 and 76-40 to Loyola on Monday. Bradley is also on the docket with the two teams slated to meet on Dec. 28 in Peoria.

- Tyeshia Bowers is the team's leading scorer with 16.2 points per game. Taylor Robinson has contributed 9.7 points per contest, while Ines Mata Boix is the team's top rebounder with an impressive average of 13.0 per game. Mata Boix ranks seventh nationally in total rebounds and 11th in rebounds per game.

- Picked to finish ninth in the WAC Preseason Polls of both media and coaches. Mata Boix was a second-team preseason all-conference selection.

Champions in Classroom: The Valpo women's basketball team has developed a tradition of having players thrive academically. The 2017-2018 season saw Valpo have 11 players finish the spring semester with a GPA of 3.0 or better. Two players were named MVC Scholar-Athletes of the Week during the season and two were recognized as part of either the MVC Scholar-Athlete team or MVC Scholar-Athlete honorable mention. The 2018-2019 team has players with the following majors: biology, biomedical engineering, communications, public relations, marketing, healthcare leadership, health sciences, exercise science, psychology, finance, elementary education, business management and secondary/physical education.

Champions in Community: The program also has a commitment to serving the community. During their time on campus, players have visited elementary school students and wrote letters back and forth to encourage and promote healthy lifestyles as pen pals. In addition, Valpo women's basketball players assembled over 1,000 informational packages for runners and spectators at the Chicago Marathon as part of the team's annual Pack-a-thon. Athletes on the team engaged the greater Valparaiso community by volunteering and organizing supervision of the Valparaiso Popcorn Fest's Little Kernel Puff Run. Valpo players ran with children to the finish line of the event and helped set up the race. Valparaiso was the hometown of Orville Redenbacher's popcorn company. Numerous Valpo players have also volunteered their time at the Valpo Boys & Girls Club.

What's Back: Valpo returns nine of its top 10 scorers from a year ago, but the one departure was significant as leading scorer Dani Franklin graduated after finishing in the Top 10 in Valpo history in 13 statistical categories. Franklin, an all-conference first team selection as a senior, finished second in program history in career scoring with 1,721 points and fifth in rebounding with 713. In all, Valpo returns 12 letter winners and four starters from last season.

#RingTheBell

- Shortly after Valpo's new coaching staff was assembled, the group

sat down to discuss a program hashtag. Despite being new to Valpo, the staff members were well educated on the University's history and tradition. That's how #RingTheBell was born.

- Head Coach Mary Evans: "Ringing the bell here at Valpo is something you do when you graduate, so the concept speaks to our goal of being successful both on the court and in the classroom. We want to be one of the best programs in our conference and continue to have great success academically and in our personal lives. My message to our players is that whatever they do in life, it's important to put in the time and effort to be very good at it. That's what #RingTheBell has become to us."

- Senior Allison Schofield: "I love the idea by our coaching staff and think it's a tremendous concept. Ringing the bell is synonymous with Valparaiso University as a whole and has been for quite some time. This allows us to become closely associated with something that is University wide rather than separating ourselves as women's basketball. To me, #RingTheBell means victory and finishing the close games that we've struggled to finish in the past."

- Senior Meredith Hamlet: "To me, #RingTheBell is about winning games. That's our goal. We have confidence that we can win the games on our schedule and we have a fair shot to beat every team we play. The team that works the hardest is going to win."

- Redshirt Sophomore Addison Stoller: "#RingTheBell gives us a consistent message and establishes a trend that we want to continue. As a program, we want to be consistent in everything we do, from our messaging to our play on the court. We've seen our coaches get excited about ringing the bell and that's allowed us to dedicate ourselves to it as well."

A Look Back at 2017-18

- Valpo won a league tournament game for the sixth time in the last seven years by topping Loyola in the first round of Hoops in the Heartland before falling to eventual conference champion Drake in the second round.

- The program finished with 13 wins, the team's highest win total since 2008-09, when it won 16 games. The team also equaled its highest conference win total since 2009-10 and had the most road wins in a single season since the 2011-2012 campaign.

- Valpo finished with the second-best free-throw percentage in program history at 76.0 and had its highest scoring average (65.1) since 2007-2008 (66.3).

- Senior Dani Franklin closed out her noteworthy career and was named to the 2017-18 All-MVC First Team and Scholar-Athlete First Team following the season. She finished second in program history in career points.

Mary Evans

Head Coach

1st Season

1-5 overall, 1-5 at Valpo
Georgia Southern, 2000

Mary Evans is in her first year as the head coach of the Valparaiso University women's basketball program in 2018-2019.

Evans, who spent the last five seasons as an assistant coach at Ohio University, became the eighth head coach in program history on April 13, 2018. She brought 15 years of Division I experience with her to Valpo.

During her time on Ohio's staff under head coach Bob Boldon, Evans helped the Bobcats to three seasons of 22 wins or more, three postseason appearances and three Top 75 RPI finishes. The 2014-15 team established a school record with 27 wins, a 21-win improvement from two years earlier and an 18-win improvement from the previous season. The Bobcats won the 2014-15 MAC regular season and tournament titles and reached the NCAA Tournament.

Evans spent the 2012-13 season at Youngstown State University, where she helped the Penguins to a 23-10 record and a first-round win at Indiana State in the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT). She has also coached at Georgia Southern University (2007-2012), the University of South Carolina, Aiken (2005-2007) and Seton Hall University (2001-2005).

The five-year stint at Georgia Southern provided Evans with the opportunity to work at her alma mater. She helped guide the 2009-2010 team to a 19-12 record, the program's highest win total since 2002-2003.

During her time at Division II South Carolina, Aiken, Evans was an assistant coach and the recruiting coordinator, helping the program to its first 20-win season since 2001-2002 in 2006-2007.

At Seton Hall, Evans was on staff as the Pirates reached the WNIT in 2003-2004 and 2004-2005. She was the recruiting coordinator during the 2004-2005 season.

At Aiken, Evans worked under Mike Brandt, who provided her with the opportunity to run the defense. When she returned to Georgia Southern under Rusty Cram, she was the offensive coach and had the chance to run practices. For six seasons prior to her appointment as Valpo head coach, she served on Boldon's staff, first at Youngstown State and then at Ohio.

Evans was a two-sport athlete at Georgia Southern, where she earned her Bachelor of Science degree in 2000. She won four letters in basketball (1995-1999) and three in soccer during her time as a collegiate athlete. A native of Summerville, S.C., Evans was inducted into the Summerville High School Hall of Fame in 2008. She and her husband Daryl have two children, Keegan Thomas and Zoe Mae.
