Game No. 14 – Monday, Dec. 30, 2019 – 7 p.m. CT
Athletics-Recreation Center (5,000) – Valparaiso, Ind.

Next Up in Valpo Basketball: The Valparaiso University men's basketball team will begin this year's Missouri Valley Conference schedule the same way last year's ended – against the Loyola Ramblers. Valpo will welcome its nearby foes to the Athletics-Recreation Center in hopes of avenging last year's conference tournament defeat. This will mark Valpo's first home game since Dec. 8 following an eight-day, three-game road swing to North Carolina and Arkansas. After finishing the nonconference slate with a winning record for the 10th straight season, Valpo will open the league slate at home for the second straight year.

Last Time Out: Valpo combated numerous challenges in the nonconference finale on Saturday, Dec. 21 at SEC foe Arkansas, playing in a raucous road environment with only eight scholarship players available with four others sidelined by injury or illness. The Brown & Gold overcame an 18-5 deficit to take an eventual eight-point lead with under eight minutes remaining in the game, but the Razorbacks escaped with a 72-68 victory in a game played at Simmons Bank Arena in North Little Rock. Mileek McMillan was a career shy of a double-double with 14&9, while Javon Freeman-Liberty led the team with 21 points.

Head Coach Matt Lottich: Matt Lottich (61-50) is in his seventh season overall at Valpo and fourth as head coach in 2019-20. Lottich led the team to 15 victories in his third season in charge in 2018-19, the program's second campaign in the Missouri Valley Conference. In his first year as head coach (2016-17), Lottich guided Valpo to its fifth Horizon League regular season championship in a six-year span as he led the team to 24 wins and an at-large berth into the NIT. Lottich, hired as the 22nd head coach of the Valpo men's basketball program in April 2016, graduated from Stanford University in 2004 and New Trier High School (Illinois) in 2000.

Series Notes: Loyola leads the all-time set 39-15 including a 5-0 mark over the last two seasons since Valpo joined the Missouri Valley Conference. The series dates all the way back to February 1922. The most recent regular season meeting was Feb. 10, 2019 at the ARC, when Valpo held a nine-point lead with just over seven minutes remaining before the Ramblers scored the next 13 points and Valpo eventually fell 56-51 in front of a capacity crowd. The two teams also faced off in the MVC Tournament a year ago, a 67-54 victory for Loyola on March 8. Valpo will attempt to snap its five-game skid against the Ramblers, which dates back to the final Horizon League meeting between the two teams on Feb. 19, 2013. Valpo prevailed 85-76 in Rogers Park.

Valpo in Conference Openers: Valpo went 6-4 in conference openers over its decade in the Horizon League, and has followed that up with a 1-1 mark in league openers through its first two years of Valley action. Valpo prevailed 58-56 on a half-court overtime buzzer-beater in last year's MVC lid-lifter against Illinois State.

Putting Up Points: Valpo finished the nonconference schedule with a scoring average of 76.3, the team's highest nonconference scoring average since entering the 2013-14 league slate at 77.1.

Leading the League

- This marks the second time in the last three years Valpo entered Valley play as the conference leader in steals per game (8.7) after also doing so in 2017-18 (7.8 spg).
- Javon Freeman-Liberty (21.8 ppg) becomes the first Valpo player to enter conference action as the league's leading scorer since 2016-17, when Alec Peters started Horizon League play at 25.5 points per game.
- Freeman-Liberty (32) is also the first Valpo player to enter conference play leading the way in steals since 2016-17, when Lexus Williams topped the Horizon League at 1.8 per game.
- This is the first time Valpo started conference action atop the statistical leaderboard in assists (16.7 apg) since 2011-12, when Valpo started Horizon League action averaging 14.7 assists per game.
- Freeman-Liberty is trying to become the first player to lead The Valley in both scoring and steals since Drake's Curt Smith in 1993.
- Valpo is trying to become the first Valley team to lead the league in both assists and steals since Bradley in 2008.

Wrapping Up Arkansas (Dec. 21)

- With only eight scholarship players available, Valpo turned an early 13-point hole into an eight-point lead with 7:27 to go, but fell 72-68 at Arkansas in a game hosted at Simmons Bank Arena in North Little Rock.
- The Hogs improved to 9-0 in home games this season, and the game against Valpo marked their slimmest margin of victory among those nine contests.

- Mileek McMillan came one rebound shy of a double-double with 14 points and nine boards. He obliterated his previous season high of four rebounds and upped his career best of seven that was set on Nov. 10, 2017 vs. North Park. He came two points shy of matching his scoring high – established on Nov. 17, 2019 vs. North Dakota – despite being limited to 24 minutes due to foul trouble. McMillan (85 points) has already surpassed his point total from all of last season (83).
- Zion Morgan doubled his rebounding season high, needing only 13 minutes to rack up nine boards. He also scored four points in his best game in a Valpo uniform.
- Javon Freeman-Liberty led Valpo in scoring for the ninth straight game against Division-I competition, filling the stat sheet with 21 points, seven rebounds, six assists and four steals. He equaled his career best in assists, which was set on Dec. 8 vs. Central Michigan.

Winning Ways: Thanks to the Dec. 18 win at High Point, Valpo locked up a winning record during the nonconference portion of the schedule for the 10th consecutive season. The last time Valpo entered the conference slate with a sub-.500 mark was 2009-10, when Valpo went 5-7 prior to the start of Horizon League action.

Home Sweet Home: Valpo upped its home record to 4-0 with the Dec. 8 triumph over Central Michigan. The home success now includes two victories over Mid-American Conference teams that qualified for postseason tournaments a year ago in Toledo and Central Michigan. The team has sustained a long-standing tradition of ARC dominance, as Valpo is off to a 4-0 home start for the fourth time in five years. Valpo is 304-71 (.811) at the ARC over the last 24 years and hasn't had a losing record at home since 1991-1992.

Gordon Going Off: Redshirt junior Eron Gordon had the first 20-point output of his career on Dec. 18 at High Point, going 7-of-9 from the field and 6-of-8 from 3-point distance in the process. He became just the sixth Missouri Valley Conference player to net six treys in a single game this season and the first Valpo player with more than four in a contest in 2019-20. Ryan Fazekas was the most recent Valpo player to knock down six 3s in a game, as he did so on Jan. 5, 2019 at Missouri State. Gordon added to that with 10 points on Dec. 21 at Arkansas. He has scored seven points or more in six of his last seven after scoring five or fewer in each of the first six games of the season. He has been in double figures in four of his last six games, averaging 10.2 points per game during that stretch, second on the team behind Freeman-Liberty. Over the last seven games, Gordon is 14-of-23 (.609) from 3-point distance.

Sackey Set-ups: Daniel Sackey set up his teammates nicely on Dec. 18, giving out a career-high nine assists in the win over High Point.

He also had 11 points, went 6-of-8 at the foul line and drew six fouls in the road victory. Perhaps most impressive of all, Sackey's nine assists came opposite zero turnovers. He became just the fifth different Missouri Valley Conference player with a nine-assist outing this season and in total it marked the seventh nine-assist game by a Valley player in 2019-20. Sackey now has three games with eight assists or more this year, joining Bradley's Darrell Brown as the only players in The Valley with three such outings. In the win over High Point, Sackey became the first Missouri Valley Conference player with nine or more assists and no turnovers in a game this season. This is the second straight season Valpo has had a player with nine or more assists and no turnovers in a game, as Deion Lavender had 10 assists and no turnovers on Nov. 24, 2018 at West Virginia.

An Eye on the Record Book: Valpo sophomore Javon Freeman-Liberty finished his freshman season with 60 steals, the third most in program history and the most by a rookie. This year, he has 32 steals with 13 games played and a minimum of 19 games remaining on the schedule, putting him well on pace to shatter Lubos Barton's school record of 63 established in 2001-02. For comparison, Freeman-Liberty had 21 steals through 12 games last season.

Notching Nine: Valpo senior John Kiser is still seeking his first double-figure scoring output, but he hit his career high of nine points for the fifth time (fourth this season) on Dec. 16 at Charlotte. His points came on an efficient 4-of-6 shooting, while he also squeezed seven rebounds to lead the team. Kiser followed that with a team-high eight rebounds on Dec. 18 at High Point, marking the fifth time he's served as the team leader or co-leader in rebounds this year, the most on the team. The eight boards matched a season high that he achieved in each of the first two games of the year. Kiser has seven or more rebounds five times in 2019-20.

A Big Day for Clay: Freshman Donovan Clay was a bright spot in Valpo's 67-57 defeat at Charlotte on Dec. 16. The rookie finished in double figures for the fourth consecutive game with 11 points to go along with six rebounds and four assists. He knocked down three 3-pointers, the first game in his career with multiple made triples. He also had his first career multi-block outing by swatting a pair of shots and equaled his watermark in the assist area with his third four-helper outing. Clay followed that showing with his fifth straight double-figure scoring output in the Dec. 18 win at High Point, posting 10 points on 4-of-7 shooting. For the second consecutive game, he had multiple blocks and made triples, this time with two of each. His stretch of double-figure outputs ended at five with the Dec. 21 game at Arkansas.

Swiping and Dishing: Valpo currently leads the Missouri Valley Conference in both steals per game (8.7) and assists per game (16.7). The last time Valpo finished a season with over 8.7 steals per game was 2001-2002, when the team averaged 10.1 steals per contest. The 2005-2006 campaign was the last time Valpo averaged over 16 assists per game, completing the year at 17.7.

Scouting the Ramblers

- Saw a five-game winning streak snapped with a 59-56 loss to Davidson in the nonconference finale on Sunday, Dec. 22.
- Head coach Porter Moser has led the team to three postseason berths over the last five seasons.
- Have won back-to-back MVC regular-season championships.
- Picked to finish fourth in the MVC Preseason Poll.
- Feature MVC Preseason Player of the Year Cameron Krutwig, who leads the team in scoring at 16.2 ppg. Tate Hall (14.2 ppg) and Lucas Williamson (10.1 ppg) join him in double figures.

Freeman-Liberty Fast Facts

- Is the only player in the Missouri Valley Conference in the Top 10 in the league in each of the following categories: scoring, rebounding, assists and steals.
- Ranks among the nation leaders in scoring average, made field goals, total points and steals.
- Has scored 17 points or more in all 12 games Valpo has played against Division-I competition this season.
- Has led Valpo in scoring in 10 of the team's last 11 games and 10 straight games against D-I competition.
- His scoring average of 21.8 points per game through 13 games is Valpo's second-best during the first 13 games of a season over the last 30 years, behind Alec Peters' 25.5 in 2016-17.
- Named the MVC Player of the Week for the second time in a three-week span on Dec. 2. Before this season, no Valpo player had earned MVC Player of the Week honors since the program joined the Missouri Valley Conference.
- Equaled a career-high five steals while pouring in 28 points on Dec. 3 at Eastern Michigan, reaching the 20-point mark for the sixth time in seven games, with the only exception a game against an NAIA opponent where he was limited to 18 minutes and scored 12 points.
- Scored 19 points or more in each of the first seven games of the season and 20 points or more in five straight prior to playing just 18 minutes and scoring 12 points in a lopsided win over Trinity Christian on Nov. 27.

- Joined Alec Peters (12 straight, 2016-17) as the only two Valpo players over the last 30 seasons to start a year with seven straight efforts of 19 points or more.

- Reached the 30-point mark for the second time this season with a career-high 32 on Nov. 25 vs. Cincinnati in the third-place game of the Paradise Jam. At that point in the season, only 45 players nationally had single-game outputs of 32 points or more.

- Became the first player in the Missouri Valley Conference with two 30-point games this season and accounted for two of the conference's first five 30-point efforts in 2019-20.

- His 32 points against Cincinnati were the most by a Valpo player in a single game since Peters had 35 against Santa Clara on Dec. 22, 2016.

- Had 13 rebounds against SIUE to go along with his 30 points, becoming the second Valpo player in the last 20 seasons with a 30&10 game, joining Alec Peters (six times).

Comeback Kids: Although Valpo would love to avoid facing double-figure first-half deficits altogether, the team has showed a knack for erasing large margins this year.

- Valpo faced an early 18-5 deficit at Arkansas (in North Little Rock, Ark.) on Dec. 21 and battled back to take an eight-point lead over the Razorbacks with 7:27 to play before falling 72-68.

- Valpo faced an early 13-3 deficit with five minutes elapsed on Dec. 16 at Charlotte and battled back to within three points in an eventual defeat.

- Valpo faced a 10-point halftime deficit on Dec. 3 at Eastern Michigan and chased by as many as 12 before coming back to take a 66-60 lead with 7:23 to go. The Eagles eventually prevailed 85-79.

- Valpo rallied from 12 down with 10:12 to play to force overtime in an eventual 81-77 defeat to Cincinnati on Nov. 25 in the third-place game of the Paradise Jam.

- On Nov. 12 at SIUE, Valpo was down by 10 with 13:00 minutes to play in the opening half before winning by 13. That marked the first time Valpo had come from down by double figures to win by double figures since Feb. 17, 2018, a 77-64 victory over Bradley.

- Valpo faced a 14-point deficit in the first half at Saint Louis on Nov. 9, but battled to within two by the 5:19 mark of the second half. That was as close as the team would come, however, in an 81-70 defeat.

- The most noteworthy comeback of all came on opening night, when Valpo erased a 14-point deficit to beat Toledo 79-77. It was the team's largest comeback against a Division-I opponent since Jan. 17, 2013, rallying from 22 down to beat Detroit Mercy 89-88. It was Valpo's biggest comeback in any game since coming from 16 down to beat Trinity Christian on Nov. 12, 2016.

- In Matt Lottich's head coaching tenure (fourth season), there have already been 10 times Valpo has trailed by double figures and come away victorious. The team overcame four double-figure deficits in 2016-17 (Wright State, Cleveland State, BYU and Trinity Christian), two in 2017-18 (Bradley and UNCW) and two in 2018-19 (George Washington and Illinois State).

Bucking the Trends: Holding opponents under 80 points had been a recipe for success for Valpo through the first 10 games of the season, as the team held a 6-0 record when keeping opponents under 80 and an 0-4 mark when opponents exceeded that precipice. However, Valpo limited Charlotte to 67 points and fell by 10 on Dec. 16, the team's first loss all year when opponents didn't hit 80. Valpo entered the evening owning a 5-0 record when winning the rebounding battle, but that trend also came to an end as Valpo lost the game despite a slim 29-28 edge on the boards.

Limited at the Line: Valpo attempted just four free throws on Dec. 16 at Charlotte, the team's fewest since also attempting four on Nov. 11, 2016 at Northern Kentucky. Valpo made just one free throw in the game against the 49ers, the team's fewest since also owning just one make at the charity stripe on Nov. 25, 2011 at No. 3 Ohio State.

10-Game Check Point: Thanks to Valpo's home win over Central Michigan on Dec. 8, the team held a 6-4 mark through 10 games. That marks the 10th consecutive season Valpo has held a winning record through 10 games, sustaining the program's tradition of strong starts.

Lock-Down D: Central Michigan entered its Sunday, Dec. 8 game at the Athletics-Recreation Center as the top scoring offense in the nation at 93.9 points per game. Valpo held the Chippewas to a season-low 55 points, just the second time all season they've been held below 75 with the other instance coming at Minnesota. Valpo contained Central Michigan to just 33.9 percent shooting for the game, the team's second-lowest shooting percentage of the season. The 55 points were the fewest allowed by Valpo all season and the opponent's field goal percentage of 33.9 was the team's best since holding Missouri State to 30.9 percent on Jan. 29 of last season.

Guarding the Arc: Valpo limited Central Michigan to just 1-of-17 (5.9 percent) from beyond the 3-point arc in the Dec. 8 victory. Central Michigan had previously made at least four 3s in every game this year, and Valpo had previously allowed at least four 3s in every game this year. That was the first time Valpo held an opponent to just one made 3 in a game since Nov. 19, 2017 vs. Southeastern Louisiana. CMU's 5.9 percent marked Valpo's lowest opponent 3-point percentage since Jan. 26, 2015, when Valpo held Milwaukee to 5.9 percent, one made triple in 17 tries.

November Success: Valpo finished the month of November with a 5-3 record, continuing a tradition of strong starts to seasons. November has been Valpo's best month under head coach Matt Lottich, as the team owns a 24-7 (.774) November Mark through the first four years of his tenure. This marked the 10th straight season Valpo has had a winning record in November, as the team has compiled a 56-19 (.747) November record over the last decade.

2018-19: 4-3

2017-18: 8-0

2016-17: 7-1

2015-16: 6-2

2014-15: 7-1

2013-14: 5-4

2012-13: 5-1

2011-12: 5-2

2010-11: 4-2

Working Overtime: The Paradise Jam third-place game on Nov. 25 marked Valpo's first overtime affair since an 87-82 setback to Indiana State on Feb. 13 at the ARC last season. Valpo has lost each of its last three overtime games.

Bearcat Bits: Valpo forced 23 turnovers in the Nov. 25 game vs. Cincinnati, but committed 18. The Brown & Gold took care of business at the free-throw line (14-15, 93.3 percent), but struggled to slow the Bearcats from the floor (31-56, 55.4 percent). This was the third time this season a Valpo opponent committed 20 or more turnovers, as Cincinnati (23) joined Toledo (21) and North Dakota (20). The game against the Bearcats marked the most turnovers committed by a Valpo opponent since UNLV's 25 on Nov. 28, 2018.

Strong Sackey Showing: Valpo guard Daniel Sackey usurped his career scoring watermark by halftime and finished the Nov. 9 game at Saint Louis with personal bests in points (22), made field goals (7), made 3-pointers (3) and made free throws (5). He became the first Valpo player to go perfect from beyond the arc with more than two attempts since Max Joseph on Jan. 20, 2018 vs. Drake. He and Joseph are the only two players to do so in the last four seasons. The last player to go unblemished from long range with more than three attempts was Alec Peters, who went 4-for-4 on Jan. 18, 2016 at Youngstown State. Sackey also dished out four assists on Saturday at SLU following his eight-helper showing in the Nov. 5 season opener vs. Toledo. This marks the first time in the sophomore's career that he has handed out four or more assists in back-to-back games.

A Flair for the Dramatic: Valpo added a new name to its long list of late-game heroes in the program's storied history during the Nov. 5 season opener vs. Toledo as Javon Freeman-Liberty knocked down an off-balance 15-footer from the left elbow with 3.7 seconds left in a 79-77 victory at the Athletics-Recreation Center. That marked the 24th time since the start of the 1992-93 season Valpo has prevailed on a game-winner in the final five seconds. Although it was the first game of the regular season, it was already the second time Valpo has won in dramatic fashion this year as Daniel Sackey's overtime buzzer-beater lifted the team past Canadian powerhouse Carleton 83-80 in overtime on its foreign tour in August.

Matt Lottich

Head Coach

4th Season * Stanford, 2004

61-50 Overall and at Valpo

Matt Lottich enters his seventh season overall at Valparaiso University and fourth as the head coach of the men's basketball program in 2019-2020. He owns a 54-44 record in his first three seasons as head coach.

The 2018-2019 season saw Lottich lead Valpo to 15 wins. The season was headlined by road victories over UNLV and George Washington during the nonconference portion of the schedule, as well as a 4-0 start to Missouri Valley Conference play.

During 2018-2019, Lottich helped coach one of the top freshmen in program history, as Javon Freeman-Liberty was named to the MVC All-Defensive and All-Freshman Teams. Freeman-Liberty led the MVC in steals and moved into third on the program's single-season chart in the category, setting a new Valpo freshman record. Freeman-Liberty also scored the fourth-most points and grabbed the fifth-most rebounds by a freshman in program history.

Lottich led Valpo to 15 victories in his second season in charge in 2017-2018 and guided the team through the move to the MVC, which ended the campaign ranked eighth nationally in conference RPI.

In his first season at the helm of the Valpo men's basketball program, Lottich guided the team to its fifth Horizon League regular season championship in a six-year span as he led Valpo to 24 wins and an at-large berth into the NIT. Lottich's inaugural season as head coach was highlighted by a home win over a nationally-ranked Rhode Island squad as well as neutral-site triumphs over Alabama and BYU to capture the MGM Grand Main Event.

Lottich coached the Horizon League Player of the Year and an NABC Third Team All-American in Alec Peters, guiding the senior as he closed out one of the top careers in program history. Peters enjoyed his finest season as a senior, ranking among the Top 20 in the nation in both scoring and rebounding and breaking five of Valpo's career records.

Lottich was hired as the 22nd head coach of the Valpo men's basketball program in April 2016. After spending the previous three seasons on staff as an assistant coach, he became just the fifth Valpo head coach in a 36-year span.

Lottich arrived at Valparaiso University in summer 2013 and helped guide the team to 78 victories over his three seasons as an assistant. Valpo won two Horizon League regular season championships and one league tournament title over those three years.

The team recorded the top two victory totals in program history over Lottich's final two years as an assistant. Valpo broke the previous school record for wins in a season during the 2014-2015 campaign, winning 28 games and earning a berth in the NCAA Tournament. Then, the 2015-2016 season saw Valpo win a program-record 30 games and advance to the NIT championship game at Madison Square Garden.

Lottich brings nearly a decade of professional playing experience to the head coaching position at Valparaiso University. He spent eight years playing professionally in Japan for the Oita Heat Devils and the Osaka Evessa, earning All-Star recognition four times. He also played one season in Germany in the Bundesliga for the Dusseldorf Giants, played one season in New Zealand in the NBL for the Harbor Heat and was a member of the New Jersey Nets' summer league team in 2004.

Lottich played collegiately at Stanford University from 2000-2004. As a senior in 2003-2004, he helped lead the Cardinal to the Pac-10 title while earning NABC All-Star plaudits, awarded to the Top 15 seniors in college basketball. He was also a member of the Wooden Award midseason watch list and was an Honorable Mention All Pac-10 selection as a senior. Lottich was a member of the program's conference championship squad as a freshman in 2000-2001 and still ranks among Stanford's single-season and career leaders in 3-pointers made.

Off the court, Lottich came to Valpo from the National Collegiate Scouting Association, where he started in January 2013. Lottich ascended to the position of head scout during his time with the NCSA, which helps high school athletes navigate the world of college recruiting. Lottich also co-founded the TEAM Life Skills basketball camp in 2004 and spent nine years managing and developing the camp.

Lottich played his prep basketball at New Trier [Ill.] H.S., where he was named the Chicago Tribune Athlete of the Year in 2000 and holds the distinction of being the program's all-time leading scorer. Lottich graduated from Stanford University in 2004 and currently resides in Valparaiso with his wife, Kylan, and their four children: Grace, Matthan, Christian and Landon.
