Valparaiso (0-0,0-0 Horizon)

Game #1: Friday, Nov. 12, 7:05 p.m. CST

IU Northwest (0-4)

Athletics-Recreation Center (5,000) - Valparaiso, Ind.

Next Up in Crusader Basketball: Valparaiso opens the 2010-2011 regular season campaign Friday evening at the Athletics-Recreation Center as the Crusaders host IU Northwest. This marks the fourth time in the last five seasons that the Crusaders have opened their schedule with a home game.

Recapping Exhibition Play: The Crusaders cruised to victories in both of their exhibition contests, defeating Olivet Nazarene 93-58 and Aurora 98-66. Valpo led by as many as 39 against ONU and as many as 50 against Aurora. Brandon Wood paced the Crusaders in exhibition action, averaging 22.0 ppg on 75% shooting.

Following the Crusaders: Every game this season will be available on the Valpo Sports Radio Network, but Friday's game will only be broadcast live over the airwaves on WAKE (1500 AM, Valparaiso). The live audio will also be available at www.valpoathletics.com, with live video through the Horizon League Network available as well. Live stats will also be available through the official Crusader website.

Head Coach Homer Drew: One of only a handful of coaches at the Division I level coaching on a floor named in his honor, head coach Homer Drew is the seventh-winningest active coach in D-I men's basketball. Drew enters Friday's game with a 348-293 record in 21 seasons at the helm of the Crusader program and a 617-415 record in 32 years overall as a head coach.

Series Notes: Valparaiso and IU Northwest are meeting for the first time in regular season action on the hardwood.

The Road Ahead: The Crusaders hit the road for the first time this year, taking on #7/7 Kansas Monday evening as part of the Las Vegas Invitational. Valpo then returns home next Thursday to play against Purdue North Central.

Scouting IU Northwest: The RedHawks, an NAIA squad, are 0-4 on the 2010-2011 season entering Friday's game. The game against the Crusaders is considered an exhibition game for IUN. Most recently, the RedHawks suffered a 104-100 overtime defeat in consolation action at the Purdue Classic to Judson College. Senior guard Carl Hampton Jr. leads the RedHawks, averaging nearly 20 ppg in the early going, while fellow senior guard Keith Dean backs up Hampton with 16.5 ppg.

Crusaders in Recent Openers: Since Drew returned to the bench prior to the 2003-2004 season, Valpo owns a 5-2 record in season openers. The Crusaders had a four-game winning streak in season openers snapped last year when they fell in their debut at Ball State. Valpo is currently on a three-game winning streak when playing the season opener at the ARC, however.

Valpo Tabbed Fourth in Preseason Poll: Valparaiso was picked to finish in fourth place in the Horizon League preseason poll conducted of the league's coaches, sports information directors, and media members. The Crusaders tallied 312 points in the polling to be picked in the fourth position. Butler, the reigning national runner-up and last season's regular season and tournament champions, was a unanimous selection atop the league standings. Detroit edged out Cleveland State as the second pick, while Milwaukee and Wright State were picked fifth and sixth, respectively. Green Bay, Loyola, UIC and Youngstown State rounded out the polling.

A Look Back at 2009-2010: Valparaiso closed the 2009-2010 season with a 15-17 overall record, a six-win improvement over the previous year. The Crusaders also went 10-8 in league play, finishing in a tie for fourth place in the Horizon League regular season standings. It marked the second time in Valpo's first three seasons as a Horizon League institution that it had finished in the top half of the standings.

Offense Leads the Way: The Crusaders ranked atop the Horizon League in a number of offensive categories a year ago. Valpo paced the league with 73.2 points per game and also ranked atop the league charts in field goal percentage (.467) and 3-pointers made per game (7.7). The Crusaders ranked among the nation's top-50 teams in the latter two categories, as well as assists/game (15.0).

A Lot of Production Returns: Having lost just one regular and three players in all from last year's squad, Valparaiso returns the vast majority of its production from last season. The 10 letterwinners, including four starters, who return for the Crusaders in 2010-2011 comprised 82.8% of the team's scoring and 91.2% of the team's rebounding from a year ago.

Wood Named Preseason First Team All-League: Redshirt junior guard Brandon Wood was one of five players named to the preseason Horizon League First Team All-League squad as announced in mid-October. Wood, the league's Newcomer of the Year and a Second Team All-League honoree in 2009-2010, led the circuit in scoring at 17.7 ppg a year ago, while his 565 total points tied for ninth-most in a single season in Valpo history. Also an NABC All-District 12 Second Team choice, he ranked among the league's best as well in 3-pointers per game (1.8, 6th) and free throw percentage (.813, 7th).

Johnson a Second Team Honoree: Fifth-year senior forward Cory Johnson also earned a spot on the preseason All-League Second Team after receiving Second Team and All-Newcomer Team honors last year in his first year with the Crusaders. Johnson averaged 15.6 ppg and 5.8 rpg a year ago, good for fourth and eighth among Horizon League players, respectively. He connected

Valpo All-Time Versus IU Northwest

Date	Site	W/L	Score
First meeting all-time

at a 55.6% clip from the floor, second-best in the league and 20th nationally, and hit better than half of his three-point attempts as well.

Oh Captain My Captain: The Crusaders will have a pair of captains for the 2010-2011 season. Cory Johnson and Howard Little will serve in the role, each for the second straight year.

Sun, Fun and Basketball: This year's Crusader squad got the chance to bond as a team with a preseason foreign trip to Cancun in August, the first time Valpo has taken advantage of the chance to take a preseason trip. The Crusaders got 10 days of practice in Valpo before taking off for Cancun with all 13 players, including newcomers Jay Harris and Kevin Van Wijk. While down in Cancun, Valpo won all four games, including a come-from-behind 102-84 win over Pioneros de Quintana Roo, which finished third in the 20-team LNBP last year.

Wood Does It All: Wood led the Crusaders in exhibition play in scoring, averaging 22.0 ppg, including a 24-point, 10-of-11 effort against Aurora. But Wood has diversified his game during exhibition action, grabbing 12 rebounds, second-most on the team, and also handing out a team-best 12 assists while committing just two turnovers.

Broekhoff Gets Defensive: Sophomore Ryan Broekhoff showcased his shooting ability in the exhibition games, hitting 6-of-9 from behind the arc and 10-of-14 overall while averaging 15.5 ppg. But it was his rebounding and defense that really stood out. Broekhoff corraled seven rebounds in each game, leading the Crusaders with 14 rebounds over the two games. On the defensive end, Rowdy blocked seven shots and registered five steals in just 24 minutes against ONU, and then followed with another rejection and four more steals in 21 minutes versus Aurora.

Welcome Back Buggs: Redshirt sophomore Erik Buggs, who was awarded a medical redshirt last year after playing just six games due to injury, was in the starting lineup at point guard for both of Valpo's exhibition contests. Buggs hit 5-of-7 from the field for 16 points in 34 minutes over the two games, while also tallying five assists and five steals.

One-Hit Preseason Wonders: Fifth-year senior Cory Johnson and sophomore Matt Kenney both played in just one of the two exhibition contests, but both made a big impact in their respective games. Johnson scored 18 points and added five rebounds in Valpo's win over Olivet Nazarene, while Kenney scored 12 points in just 11 minutes on 5-of-7 shooting and also blocked three shots in the win over Aurora.

The Debuts: Crusader fans got their first look at three players in game action during exhibition play. Freshman Jay Harris actually played the most of any Crusader over the two games, playing 54 minutes and averaging 8.5 ppg and 3.0 apg. Redshirt freshman Hrvoje Vucic started against Aurora and played 36 minutes over the two contests, while sophomore Kevin Van Wijk debuted against Aurora and went a perfect 3-of-3 for 7 points and four rebounds in 12 minutes.

Dr. Homer Drew

Head Coach

22nd Season

William Jewell, 1966

Dr. Homer Drew has built a championship legacy at Valparaiso and developed a program considered by many to be among the best at the NCAA Division I mid-major level. Among the top-ten tenured coaches in Division I basketball and one of just a handful of coaches coaching on a floor named in his honor, the 2010-2011 season marks Drew's 22nd season as head coach on the bench at Valpo.

Drew ranks seventh among active Division I head coaches in career victories with 617 wins; a number which places him 32nd all-time among coaches with at least 10 years of Division I coaching experience. A nine-time Coach of the Year, Drew took over a program in 1988 that had never produced a winning record at the Division I level, a stretch that began in 1976. His teams have won 20 or more games eight times in his tenure and finished above .500 in 13 of his last 16 seasons. During his 21 seasons at the helm, Valpo has captured eight regular season titles and eight conference tournament championships.

Drew helped put Valpo basketball on the national scene by guiding the Crusaders to seven NCAA Tournament appearances, including five consecutive from 1996-2000. The "Building a Tradition" philosophy which Drew introduced upon his arrival reached euphoric heights in 1998 as Valpo advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament for the first time in school history, generating priceless worldwide publicity for the University and community. Drew guided the Crusaders to upsets of Mississippi and Florida State before a tough loss to Rhode Island in the Regional Semi-Finals ended the Cinderella run. The victory over Ole Miss, anchored by "The Shot", catapulted Valpo onto the world stage.

Coach Drew has had 32 players, including Ensminger and his son Bryce, go on to play professional basketball or baseball in the last 16 years, and Bryce was drafted 16th in the first round of the 1998 NBA Draft by the Houston Rockets. The 1998 draft also included Drew's son-in-law, Casey Shaw out of Toledo University, who was taken 37th by the Philadelphia 76ers.

Drew was recently recognized as one of the 150 most influential people in Valparaiso University's 150 years, and was inducted into the Valparaiso University Hall of Fame in February of 2009 as part of the 1997-1998 Sweet Sixteen team. Drew was honored in October 2006 with the Amicus Certus Award from Lutheran Social Services of Illinois. The award is given to individuals that have made significant contributions to the human community. In October of 2002, Drew received the Mid-Continent Conference's Commissioner's Award of Merit, the league's most prestigious honor. Drew was also honored with the Naismith Good Sportsmanship Award in 1998 by the Naismith International Basketball Foundation.

He received distinguished recognition for his coaching career when he was inducted into the Bethel College Hall of Fame in 1998. He was also inducted into the Halls of Fame at William Jewell College and Webster Groves High School in St. Louis, Mo. for his achievements on the basketball court. An active civic speaker who has created numerous community activities for his teams, Drew was presented in 1999 with the Lumen Christi Medal, Valparaiso University's highest honor, in recognition of a lay person's distinguished service to church and society. By his own admission, one of Drew's greatest achievements is that he has sent 77 players into either the teaching or coaching professions.

Drew and his wife, Janet, have three grown children, Scott, Dana and Bryce, and have six grandchildren.
